Supervising Remote Instruction

TARGET AUDIENCE: Administrative and Supervisory CTE Personnel

DATES/LOCATIONS: October 20, 2021 – Online

PIL HOURS TO BE AWARDED: 30

DESCRIPTION:

The Supervising Remote Instruction is a 30-hour PIL and includes 10 hours of online lessons and 20 hours of job embedded assignments. It will focus on three aspects of teaching and learning. (1) Administrators will recognize and implement the key components of best practices in supervision to empower teachers and to share successful practices for online learning. (2) With remote or hybrid classes likely to remain a reality perhaps intermittently for months or years to come, administrators will help teachers to increase/improve online learning using a variety of strategies, including effective use of formative assessment and implementing a daily routine that builds opportunities for active student engagement, collaboration, and feedback. (3) Administrators will help teachers assess the effectiveness of their instruction and use of formative assessment, and to further empower teachers to use action research to create long-lasting changes in their practice by focusing on student learning.

In the culminating project, participants will review the practices for effective teacher supervision learned in Module 1, the use of formative assessment by teachers during remote instruction identified in Module 2, and their understanding of action research in Module 3, to construct a narrative response to three written prompts.
